

Call for application

IUNS Workshop on Capacity and Leadership Development in Nutritional Sciences

The International Union of Nutritional Sciences (IUNS) has organized Nutrition Leadership Training programs in various regions after Capacity Building guidelines were developed by IUNS and United Nations University (UNU) in 1996. Following the previous IUNS Workshop on Capacity and Leadership Development in Nutritional Sciences organized in 2010 and 2014, the next regional Nutrition Leadership Training program will be held again in Japan in March 2017.

The principal aim of the upcoming workshop is that the participants from Japan as well as other Asian countries will share their experiences and acquire the necessary knowledge and skills for leadership development toward the solution of the global health and nutrition issues.
